

Boston Business Journal

Human Capital: People on the move, Jan. 13

Boston Business Journal - by Sean McFadden

Date: Thursday, January 13, 2011, 11:36am EST

The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University in Medford has named Dr. Bhaskar Chakravorti the School's new senior associate dean of international business and finance, executive director of the International Business Center, executive director of the Center for Emerging Market Enterprises and professor of practice in international business. To this role, Chakravorti brings more than 20 years of academic and industry experience in the field of innovation, entrepreneurship management and new venture formation in global businesses. He joins The Fletcher School from McKinsey & Company, where he was a partner based in the international management consulting firm's Boston office.

MassEcon recently elected its board of directors for 2011. Newly elected to the board is Michelle Cammarata of KPMG, who also serves as co-chair of MassEcon's marketing committee. Robert Brustlin, president and CEO of Vanasse Hangen Brustlin, was elected to serve his second term as chairman. Other directors who were elected as officers include Fred Mulligan of Cutler Associates as vice chairman, John Isberg of National Grid as treasurer and David Tibbetts of Merrimack Valley Economic Development Council as clerk. Directors re-elected to MassEcon's board include David Begelfer of NAIOP Massachusetts, Ned Bartlett of Bowditch & Dewey, Jack Burns of CresaPartners, Francesca Maltese of The O'Connell Development Group and Bob Culver of MassDevelopment.

Charlotte Bartholomew has joined Allen & Gerritsen (a&g) in Watertown as a multimedia designer. Prior to a&g, Bartholomew spent three years with Hill Holliday in Boston as a presentation specialist creating credentials for new business initiatives.