May 2017 Members Meeting

MassEcon held its third Members Meeting of the year at GE Healthcare Life Sciences in Marlborough with speaker Mike Kennealy, Assistant Secretary for Business Growth. Mike led a discussion on "pitching" Massachusetts as a place to do business. The meeting was followed by remarks from GE and a tour of its lab space. Stay tuned for Mike's presentation, and read the event press release here.

Corporate Welcome Reception Videos

The Ninth Annual Corporate Welcome Reception was a great success that welcomed 18 companies new to Massachusetts. Representatives from seven of those companies participated in video interviews highlighting their work and why they chose to call Massachusetts home. Watch all of the videos here.

Projects

#2822: Project Eagle: MassEcon, Massport, and MOBD are assisting a Chinese company that is one of the world's leading manufacturers of solar cells and solar panels. The company is evaluating locations to establish its first manufacturing facility in the US to serve the US market. The company is considering existing buildings of 750K-1.4 million SF or land sites to build-to-suit.

Notes: MassEcon and member firms involved in the project will hear in two weeks if Massachusetts has made the short list of states competing with Nevada, Arizona, California, and New York.

#2826: A local technology company needs 60 acres of rural land for a R&D test site for autonomous tethered airborne platforms. The site must be free of telephone poles and buildings; consent to build a temporary fabric stretch tent

hangar; have the ability to install concrete pads and anchors; and access to 100+KVA feed. Road access needed to site.

Notes: Sites in Holliston and Douglas are being considered.

#2830: Project Aurora: A Washington, DC location consultant is representing a client in the advanced technology industry. They would like to buy an existing facility minimum of 125K SF with expansion potential to 250K SF in year 5. The facility must have existing clean room of any size and the client will build-out the remainder. Ultimately, 60% of the facility will be class 1000 clean room. Notes: Considering real estate options statewide, 275 jobs (24/7 operations).

Staff in Action

Susan Houston, along with Brian Cohen, and Mark Melnik of UMass, presented MassEcon's research study on location decision-making to Chairman Wagner and the economic development committee of the board of WPI. Susan and Mark will also be presenting the study at the May meeting of the 495/MetroWest Partnership. Susan attended the AIM annual meeting, the GE Headquarters Innovation Point groundbreaking, and with Doug, met with representatives from Colliers International for a market overview.

Doug Kehlhem is preparing for a busy June with an out-of-state reception planned in New York City in conjunction with the Medical Design and Manufacturing East trade show and the BIO Convention at the end of June.

Annie O'Connell worked to execute the May Members Meeting and is preparing for the June 2 Annual Conference. She participated in the Program & Events and Membership & Marketing Committee meeting. Annie is looking ahead to evaluate companies for the 2017 Economic Impact Awards.
